

VRRRA Concussion Protocol

Rowan's Law (Concussion Safety), 2018 makes it mandatory for sports organizations to:

1. ensure that athletes under 26 years of age,* parents of athletes under 18, coaches, team trainers and officials confirm every year that they have reviewed Ontario's Concussion Awareness Resources
2. establish a Concussion Code of Conduct that sets out rules of behaviour to support concussion prevention
3. establish a Removal-from-Sport and Return-to-Sport protocol

The new rules requiring the review of Concussion Awareness Resources and Concussion Codes of Conduct came into effect on July 1, 2019.

The rules for removal-from-sport and return-to-sport protocols are expected to be in place by July 1, 2020.

9e All riders and passengers who have fallen off their machine must undergo a medical exam, regardless of the severity of the fall. The competitor, with their helmet must report to Race Medical for a mandatory evaluation, immediately upon returning to the Paddock. Competitors will not be allowed on the track until Race Control receives approval from the Doctor allowing continued participation. If the competitor is denied further participation for that day, they can request a reassessment by the Doctor the next day. An overnight rest does not mean a competitor can go racing again without the Doctor's approval.

If a rider does not, or is not allowed to, participate in further practice sessions or races; a medical exam by the Doctor is recommended before the rider leaves the track.

9f If the medical staff at an event determine that a rider has suffered a loss of consciousness or has a potential head injury, the rider must follow their instructions. This can include an immediate trip to the hospital or a recommendation to watch for certain signs which would require a hospital or clinic visit. This will be recorded in the event medical file. The rider cannot continue racing at that event or at future events until they provide a letter from a medical doctor clearing them to race. This letter must be presented to the event medical staff at which the rider plans to race.

Code of Conduct template

The Rowan's Law Concussion Code of Conduct requirements will come into effect on July 1, 2019. After that date, sport organizations must require that athletes under 26 years of age,* as well as their parents (for athletes under 18), coaches and team trainers confirm that they have reviewed the sport organization's Concussion Code of Conduct every year before:

- registering in a sport activity within the sport organization
- serving with the sport organization

Information about the specific requirements for the establishment and review of Concussion Codes of Conduct are outlined in Rowan's Law and its associated regulation.

Removal from sport/Return to sport protocols

The Rowan's Law Removal-from/Return-to-sport requirements are expected to come into effect on July 1, 2020. Your sport organization must then have a removal-from/return-to-sport protocol.

A sample template will be provided here in the near future to assist you in developing a Removal-from/Return-to-sport protocol.

Information about the minimum requirements that must be contained in all removal-from/return-to-sport protocols, will be outlined in the Rowan's Law regulation. This section of the regulation is anticipated to be in place on July 1, 2020.

About the concussion awareness resources

On July 1, 2019, it is anticipated that new rules will come into effect through Rowan's Law, to improve concussion safety in amateur competitive sport.

If you are an athlete, parent of an athlete under 18, coach or official and your sport organization has advised that you will need to follow the rules of Rowan's Law you will need to:

- review any one of the official concussion awareness resources before registering or serving with your sport organization
- review your sport organization's Code of Conduct that they will provide to you
- confirm that you have reviewed both of these resources every year with your sport organization(s)

Concussion awareness resources for you to review

Concussion awareness resources will be available in the following three formats:

- e-booklet
- video
- e-module

Under Rowan's Law, if your sport organization has requested it, you will need to review one format each year. All three formats contain similar information. Choose the format that suits your learning style. Currently, only the e-booklet is available for your review.

Government of Ontario Concussion Awareness Resource E-Booklet

This e-booklet will help you learn more about concussions so you can keep yourself and others active and safe — whether you're an athlete, student, parent, coach, official or educator.

You can download and print a copy for reference.

Confirmation receipt for concussion awareness resources

Following your annual review of one of the concussion awareness resources, you may wish to complete this optional form and provide it to your sport organization(s) as proof/confirmation of your review of a concussion awareness resource.

This form might also be useful to you as a reminder to complete your review of one of the concussion awareness resources again next year.

This form will not be saved by the Government of Ontario and the Government of Ontario assumes no responsibility for confirming that you have reviewed the concussion awareness resources.
